MESSAGE

Ir. Abdul Razak Yakob
Organising Chairman
NEC 2025

Organising a national convention of this magnitude is never a straightforward endeavour. Behind the seamless programmes, meticulous sessions, and high-level engagements lies an intricate tapestry of planning, coordination, and dedication. The Board of Engineers Malaysia (BEM), as the regulatory body for the engineering profession, carries a profound responsibility in ensuring that every aspect of the National Engineering Convention (NEC) aligns with the standards, protocols, and expectations befitting the profession it governs.

The journey towards NEC 2025 has been a testament to the unwavering commitment of the BEM Secretariat, whose relentless efforts in managing the complexities of logistics, regulatory compliance, and stakeholder engagement have been nothing short of exemplary. Their hard work behind the scenes has ensured that this convention stands as a symbol of BEM's dedication to elevating Malaysia's engineering community.

Equally, I wish to express my deepest appreciation to the NEC 2025 Committee Members for their leadership and vision. Their strategic foresight in curating a comprehensive programme that meets the multifaceted demands of a regulatory convention, balancing professional discourse, industry alignment, and public expectations, that reflects the caliber of leadership within BEM.

As we navigate an era of rapid transformation, this convention serves not only as a platform for knowledge exchange but also as a reaffirmation of our collective commitment to engineering excellence, governance, and regional integration.

Thank you for your trust and support. Together, let us engineer a future that is resilient, innovative, and deeply rooted in professional integrity.

Ir. Fam Yew Hin
Chairman,
Corporate Communication Committee
Board of Engineers Malaysia

It is with great honour and enthusiasm that I welcome all participants to the Board of Engineers Malaysia (BEM) National Engineering Convention 2025. As Chairman of the Corporate Communication Committee, I am privileged to witness the continued growth of this annual gathering into a dynamic nexus of engineering excellence, thought leadership, and collaborative ambition—now extending beyond national borders into the heart of ASEAN.

This year's theme, "Engineering Malaysia, Integrating ASEAN", captures our collective intent to harness engineering as a unifying force across Southeast Asia. In a world that is becoming increasingly interconnected—digitally, economically, and environmentally—engineers must play a strategic role in enabling sustainable growth and regional cooperation.

Crucially, this convention also celebrates the people behind the profession—our Professional Engineers, emerging talents, institutional collaborators, and industry leaders. The Hackathon, BEM's President Award, and the Engineering Innovation and Safety Excellence Awards are among many highlights designed to spotlight innovation, dedication, and future-readiness.

As the voice behind BEM's public outreach, the Corporate Communication Committee remains committed to strengthening awareness of the engineering profession, amplifying its impact across society, and enhancing public trust in the integrity of our professional community. We believe communication is not merely about messaging, but about meaningful engagement, one that bridges technical aspirations with national and regional narratives.

To our partners, speakers, exhibitors, and participants: thank you for being part of this important milestone. Your support ensures that NEC remains not just an annual event, but a movement towards integrated, sustainable and forward-looking engineering.

Let us move forward with purpose and partnership—towards a stronger Malaysia and a more connected ASEAN.

MESSAGE

Datuk Wira Ir. Roslan bin Ismail
President
Board of Engineers Malaysia

Assalamualaikum Warahmatullahi Wabarakatuh, Salam Sejahtera and Salam Malaysia Madani.

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the National Engineering Convention (NEC) 2025, held from 19 to 22 August 2025 at the Connexion Conference & Exhibition Centre, Bangsar South City, Kuala Lumpur.

With the theme “Engineering Malaysia, Integrating ASEAN”, NEC 2025 reflects BEM's commitment to regional collaboration, professional excellence, and sustainable development. This convention brings together engineers, industry leaders, regulators, and students for impactful discussions on key areas such as regulatory harmonisation, international networking, sustainability, and talent development.

We are honoured to host delegates from ASEAN member states and Asia countries through the Forum on Business Opportunities and Challenges, Business Networking Session and ASEAN Chartered Professional Engineers Forum, further strengthening Malaysia's engineering ties globally.

Highlights include workshops on Construction Design Management (CDM) and Outcome-Based Professional Assessment, the Professional Conferment Ceremony, the Future Engineering Talents programme, and our inaugural ESG Workshop—all designed to elevate the profession and inspire future leaders.

On behalf of the Board of Engineers Malaysia, I thank you for your continued support. Let us make NEC 2025 a milestone of progress and collaboration.

Yang Berhormat Dato Sri Alexander Nanta Linggi
Minister of Works

It is with great pride and optimism that I extend my warmest congratulations to the Board of Engineers Malaysia (BEM) on the successful organisation of the National Engineering Convention (NEC) 2025. This annual gathering stands as a vital platform for engineers, regulators, academics, and industry players to exchange knowledge, reaffirm professional values, and chart new directions for Malaysia's engineering landscape.

This year's theme, "Engineering Malaysia, Integrating ASEAN", aptly captures the aspirations of our engineering community in advancing regional integration through innovation, collaboration, and sustainable development. As the construction and engineering sectors continue to evolve amidst the challenges of globalisation, digital transformation, and climate resilience, Malaysia must remain at the forefront—leading with expertise, inclusivity, and purpose.

Engineering is more than a technical discipline—it is a catalyst for socio-economic progress. The NEC 2025 programme, with its diverse forums on business opportunities, regulatory alignment, talent development, CDM regulations, professional mobility, and ESG practices, reflects the multifaceted role that engineers play in shaping resilient infrastructures and interconnected economies across ASEAN.

I am particularly encouraged by the inclusion of strategic dialogues and workshops aimed at bridging academia and industry, nurturing young engineering talent, and reinforcing ethical standards and safety excellence. These initiatives are essential in cultivating a future-ready workforce that is adaptable, competent, and aligned with regional and international best practices.

The Ministry of Works stands in full support of BEM's efforts in strengthening engineering governance, enhancing mobility through bilateral engagements and promoting the professionalisation of engineers in Malaysia and beyond.

Let us continue to build enduring bridges—of knowledge, innovation, and regional unity. Together, may we engineer a future that is not only technically excellent but also environmentally sustainable, economically inclusive and socially equitable.

I wish all participants a productive and inspiring convention.
